Mary Ann,

Paul found the Supreme Court decision regarding the Bluffdale disconnect lawsuit filed on July 20, 2007. If you are interested in viewing it you can go to the following website link.

Essentially, the disconnect was granted, so the area of concern is no longer part of Bluffdale city. This makes moot the letters and requests you received from Tod Weiler.

It is still not clear what jurisdiction this area is now in (Salt Lake County? Herriman? Riverton?). Paul is trying to get the operators in the area to provide some more information regarding land ownership and right of entry. A good map showing the disconnect area would be very helpful.

We are still involved in regulating the mining operations that are ongoing. I expect in the near future that we will see an approved housing development for this area and a claim from the operators that they are no longer mining, but are only doing development work for the subdivisions. We will have to keep an eye on it.
